

Geography at Thorndown Primary School

Our aim is to teach children to gain an age appropriate understanding of places and environments throughout the world. The children will develop specific geographical skills and ask geographical questions, allowing them to make sense of their own local area and the rest of the world, as well as gaining an appreciation of life in other cultures through their growing knowledge and understanding of human and physical geography.

We aim to make links with other subject areas to further enrich learning and develop a sense of intrigue. Our Geography curriculum aims to inspire children to think about their own place in the world and to develop a sense of responsibility towards the environment and an understanding of the impact humans have on the natural world.
